

WIFE CARRIED AWAY.

Mrs. Robb and Her Husband
Attacked by Five Ruffians.

Police Pursue Them and Capture John Meahan.

The Others Escape, but They Are Said to Be Known.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 21.—James Robb, of 448 Broadway, Elizabethport, and his wife went to the Elizabethport station of the Central road last night to see a couple of friends off on the last train.

As they were returning to their home they were set upon by five men at a lonely part of the road.

Robb and his wife sought safety in flight, but Mrs. Robb was overtaken by the men and carried away.

Robb continued running until he met Policeman Campbell, whom he told of the occurrence.

The policeman blew his whistle for assistance, and was joined by Patrolman Desmond, and together they started in pursuit of the ruffians, who had dragged their victim across some fields.

They were about to assault her, when the police reached the scene.

The fellows saw them coming and abandoning the woman they scattered in different directions.

Policeman Campbell sent a fusillade of shots after them.

One of the men, John Meahan, threw up his hands and stopped running, thinking he was shot, but he was not wounded.

The policeman secured him, and locked him up, but his companions escaped in the darkness.

The prisoner was arraigned this morning, charged with atrocious assault, and Mr. and Mrs. Robb both appeared against him.

The woman's clothing was badly torn, and she suffered from fright and shock. The police say they have the names of the other assailants, and expect to capture them in a few days.

Meahan, who is twenty-four years old, was committed to the County Jail in default of $1,000 bail. He belongs to a respectable family, his father being one of the oldest section foremen in the employ of the New Jersey Central.

DIDN'T PAY AND WAS JILTED.

Green Wanted $500 from Miss
Krasin for Furniture.

She Sues for Breach of Promise and Gets $200.

Lena Krasin, a pretty young woman, of 301 Smith street, Brooklyn, was plaintiff to-day in a suit to recover $500 damages from Jacob Green for alleged breach of promise of marriage.

The case was tried this morning before Judge Osborne and a jury in City Court, Brooklyn.

Lena told the jury that the only reason Green gave was that he and his mother had changed their minds. During the trial, however, testimony was given to show that the girl had promised to deposit $500 in the bank, which was to be used in furnishing a home.

She failed to keep her agreement.

Lena formerly lived at 112 East Broadway, New York. On Oct. 1, 1892, she declares, she was introduced to Green at the home of a mutual friend. On Oct. 2, he asked her to become his wife. Nov. 5 she was introduced to his mother. On the same evening, she says, she was presented to a number of acquaintances as the future Mrs. Green. After that time, she says, she was treated as a married woman.

She asked him for an explanation, but didn't get it. She received a letter on Dec. 10, 1892, from him, declaring the match off. In company with her brother she called upon him and demanded an explanation.

He told her that "he and mother had changed their minds." Subsequently she caused her arrest, but he was released.

Green claimed that the $500 was to be deposited the day after their engagement was announced, and that he was to be used to buy furniture. Miss Krasin having failed to put up the money, he considered that he was under no obligation to marry her.

The jury retired at noon and returned shortly afterwards, awarding a judgment for $200 to the girl.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

Staub Wouldn't Marry, So He Was Arrested.

Joseph Staub was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Walgreen, upon an order signed by Judge Bloch, of the Court of Common Pleas, in an action brought against him by Lina Klein, of 375 East Houston street, to recover $10,000 for breach of promise.

The plaintiff alleges that she first met Staub Dec. 15, 1892, and that he at once became very attentive to her, and on Feb. 10, 1894, proposed marriage and was accepted.

The engagement, she says, was publicly announced, and June 1, 1894, was fixed upon as the day for the marriage. On April 25, 1894, the plaintiff swears, the defendant for the second time changed his mind, and did not intend to marry her, so she began suit.

MEINDELL SEEKS A DIVORCE.

Charges His Twenty-Year-Old Wife with Infidelity.

William Meindell, a fruit dealer of 64 Nassau street, New York City, has begun an action for absolute divorce from his wife, Annie, in the City Court, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Meindell lives at 122 John street, Brooklyn. She was married to the plaintiff on June 1, 1892, and has two children. It is alleged that Mrs. Meindell has lived with one Morris Harris at 114 Walton street, Brooklyn, since her marriage.

Thus far Mrs. Meindell has made no defense.

American Wedding in Paris.

PARIS, June 21.—Mrs. Emily Meredith Reed Stout, an American lady, was married to-day to Edwards Spencer at the American Church, on the Avenue de l'Alma. Only a few friends of the bride and bridegroom were present at the ceremony.

Accused Police-Dealer Held.

Andrew Pugh, of 43 Ketchikaner avenue, Brooklyn, was held in $500 bail in the Gates Avenue Police Court to-day on a charge of running a police shop.

INSANE IN CHURCH.

Pretty Theresa Scopfil Startles
St. Alphonsus Worshippers.

Said She Wanted to Be a Missionary,
Then that She Was in Love.

Queloted by Priest and Policeman and Sent to Bellevue.

Theresa Scopfil, a good-looking German girl, about twenty-two years old, went crazy while at solitary worship in St. Alphonsus' Church in South Fifth avenue, near Grand street, this morning.

The young woman entered the church, which is always open, at about 8 o'clock this morning. She knelt for nearly half an hour in a pew, near the rear. A few persons came in for an hour of prayer, but none of them noticed her until she suddenly started them with a loud cry.

She began to rave and gesture wildly, but as she spoke in German no one could understand her until Father Sigl, the rector, arrived. To him the woman said one minute that she wanted to be a missionary, and the next that she was in love.

She made much noise that Roundsman Ryan was called in off the street. He endeavored to lead her out, but she resisted him and promised to be quiet. She subsided for a while but broke out again, and for an hour kept priest and policeman alternately struggling with her. Then she quieted down.

Finally, Mrs. Haefner, an artificial flower, at 23 Thompson street, in the rear of the church, came in and recognized the girl. She induced her to follow her through the back door of the church to her shop, where she had another violent attack.

Meanwhile an ambulance had been called, and when it arrived the young woman was persuaded to go with it to Bellevue Hospital, where she was lodged in the insane pavilion to await inquiry.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

Mrs. Haefner said that the girl had come to America about a year ago. She worked in the flower shop a while and then obtained employment as a domestic with a Mrs. Meyer, at 24 West Fifty-eighth street. A year ago the girl showed slight symptoms of religious mania, but she went about her work intelligently, and nothing was thought of it.

O'NEILL'S

6th Ave., 20th to 21st St.

Misses' and Infants' DEPT.

Extraordinary Values

FURNITURE.

(3D FLOOR.)

SPECIAL PRICES

For Friday & Saturday.

Misses' and Children's Wash Dresses in Gingham, Dimity and Percale, 4 to 14 years, 75c.

Regular Price 1.98

Misses' Suits of Duck, Pique and Fine Gingham, in a variety of colors, 8 to 16 years,

1.79 and 2.98.

Formerly 4.50 to 8.50.

Misses' and Children's Cloth Dresses and Reefer Jackets, fine, all wool material, seasonable styles and colors, 4 to 16 years,

1.98 and 3.98.

Regular value 5.98 to 10.98.

Infants' short Dresses in Lawn and Cambric, trimmed with embroidery and tucks, 29c.

Regular value 98c.

Infants' and Children's Shirred Caps,

19c.

Reduced from 69c.

H. O'NEILL & CO.

6th Ave., 20th to 21st St.

ROBBED HIS SISTER.

Yet Angerer Hid Under Her Bed After Stealing from Another.

Charles Angerer, twenty years old, was held for trial on two charges of larceny by Justice Hogan, in Essex Market Court to-day.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

Detective Lang, of the Fifth street station, arrested Angerer after a lively chase over roofs, and finally found him beneath his sister's bed.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

Detective Lang, of the Fifth street station, arrested Angerer after a lively chase over roofs, and finally found him beneath his sister's bed.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

Detective Lang, of the Fifth street station, arrested Angerer after a lively chase over roofs, and finally found him beneath his sister's bed.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

Detective Lang, of the Fifth street station, arrested Angerer after a lively chase over roofs, and finally found him beneath his sister's bed.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

Detective Lang, of the Fifth street station, arrested Angerer after a lively chase over roofs, and finally found him beneath his sister's bed.

The complainants against him were his sister, Louisa, and Mrs. Mary Klenker, both of 93 East Fourth street. He stole $20 worth of property from his sister and $70 worth of wearing apparel and jewelry from the other woman.

O'NEILL'S

6th Ave., 20th to 21st St.,

ARE OFFERING

Extraordinary Values

FURNITURE.

(3D FLOOR.)

SPECIAL.

White Enamelled Metal BEDS,

Brass Knobs,

4.50.

Regularly sold for 6.50.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN MUSIC CABINETS.

A rare opportunity to secure a Useful Article at HALF VALUE.

One Lot in Oak and Mahogany Reduced to

8.00 AND 15.00

Former Prices 16.50 and 30.00.

Also

Equally Good Values